POLSKI HOLDING NIERUCHOMOŚCI S.A. WINS THE THIRD EDITION OF THE RANKING “TRANSPARENT COMPANY OF THE YEAR 2018”

Monday, May 20, 2019 - 08:19

Polski Holding Nieruchomości S.A. received the title of “Transparent Company of the Year” in the third edition of the ranking prepared by the Accounting and Tax Institute and “Parkiet” stock exchange and investors daily. The ranking’s results were based on a survey among companies that covered three major areas of communication with the market: financial reporting, investor relations and corporate governance principles.

The organizers’ initiative aims at improving the quality of public companies’ communication with the market by increasing awareness among: the management — about areas which are important in that communication; supervisory bodies — about issuers’ information and reporting duties; auditors — about the important role they play in auditing issuers’ financial statements, about signals they send to companies, and whether their task should be restricted to issuing an opinion on auditing the financial statements; and consultants and advisers, who are often a source of innovation and a new approach to communication with the market.

“Receiving the Transparent Company of the Year title third time in a row confirms that we communicate with the market appropriately. Our clients and investors and media and business representatives expect us to provide up-to-date, reliable and complete information about our company. This is why communication with the market is one of our top priorities,” said Marcin Mazurek, President of the Management Board of Polski Holding Nieruchomości S.A.

The ranking is intended for 140 companies listed in the three main indices (WIG20, mWIG40 and sWIG80). In the WIG80 index, the winners included Polski Holding Nieruchomości S.A. The results of the ranking “Transparent Company of the Year 2018” were officially announced on May 20, 2019.
